

CODE OF CONDUCT

25th Annual Nevada Science Bowl
March 4-5, 2016

NEVADA SCIENCE BOWL CONDUCT RULES:

- All team members are expected to conduct themselves with courtesy and respect at all times. All team members will treat others with courtesy and respect at all times. Team Members must respect personal, private and public property. Any team responsible for damages will receive a bill.
- The use of threatening or foul language is not tolerated.
- No fighting or arguing with volunteers, team members or other teams.
- Appropriate shirts and shoes are required at all times. Team members wearing inappropriate attire (not in good taste) could be grounds for individual and team disqualification.
- Smoking or using tobacco products in buildings is prohibited.
- Possession or use of alcoholic beverages or illegal drugs is prohibited.
- The Nevada Science Bowl enlists the assistance of an Ombudsman. This individual will resolve any disputes that may arise.
- The Nevada Science Bowl is a team event. Therefore, one team member's behavior can jeopardize the eligibility of the entire team. Complaints received from volunteers, other teams, the National Atomic Testing Museum, or Henderson International School regarding behavior are grounds for disqualification from the competition.
